VETERAN-OWNED BUSINESS RESOURCE GUIDE

Arranged by Kayla Lopez

PURPOSE

This guide is meant to serve as a resource for you in your journey to business ownership or franchising. We will uncover some of the funding opportunities and resources available to you as a veteran or military spouse-owned business.

MISSION

- 1 Tax Benefits and Waivers
State tax incentives, waivers and minority business programs available.
- 2 Education and Mentoring
Types of programs you can utilize to grow, support and gain valuable knowledge that will lead to successful outcomes. Veteran-focused networking and mentoring programs.
- 3 Funding Streams
State programs, loan programs, grant opportunities and other resources.
- 4 Certifications and Supplier Diversity
Certification and supplier diversity programs that focus on VOBs, SDVOBs and SVOBs that allow access to state and federal contracts.

Tax Benefits

State Programs

Tax benefits can make a difference in reducing overhead or supportive costs, some of these benefits include fee waivers, licensing waivers, tax incentive programs or even real estate purchases. Every state is unique in the types of tax programs that they offer to diverse business owners. We have compiled a list of resources that we are aware of by state to assist you in exploring the different programs and benefits available to you. You may find additional support programs available in different state agencies as you explore.

Your state may offer the following incentives to veteran-owned businesses:

- Business license or fee waivers
- Occupational license fee waivers
- Occupational requirement waivers or transferability
- State-funded legal programs
- Tax incentive programs
- E-filing options
- Tax credits
- Rebates or credits

By the State

Here is a list of state-funded programs to get you started. Some programs may be available at a city, county or regional level and may not be listed. Be sure to do your research and leverage any business education programs available in your area to expand on local incentives.

States that offer business license exemptions, extensions and fee waivers

State and local governments charge people a license fee when they apply to work in certain occupations—the initial costs are usually high and can be a barrier to work. Almost one in three workers nationwide require a government license to work.

Alabama	Business and Occupational License Exemption
Arizona	Professional and Occupational Licenses Program
California	Business License Tax and Fee Waiver
Colorado	DORA Veterans Occupational Credentialing and Licensing (VOCAL)
Delaware	License and Permits for Military Spouses
Florida	DBPR Veterans Fee Waiver
Georgia	Business Certificate Fee Exemption
Indiana	Peddlers, Vendors or Hawkers License
Kentucky	The Kentucky Small Business Tax Credit Program (KSBTC)
Missouri	Startup for Soldiers
New Hampshire	Veterans Peddler's License Fee Exemption
Pennsylvania	Veteran-Owned Business Fee Exemption
Texas	Veteran Entrepreneur Program Waiver of Incorporation Fees

Franchise or Capital Stock Tax

In addition to an income tax, many states have a separate, distinct franchise or capital stock tax. The tax calculation varies widely by state and can be based on overall capital, capital stock or the amount of tangible property within a state. These are the states that do levy a franchise tax on its citizens or businesses.

U.S. SMALL BUSINESS ADMINISTRATION

VETERANS BUSINESS OUTREACH CENTERS

State Run Business Resource Connections

States offer resources and education programs that specifically assist VOBs in finding and connecting to organizations who assist small businesses and those who focus on supporting veteran business communities. Qualifications for these programs can vary, but more often than not they may still be willing to help point you in the right direction. In addition, they can connect you with additional partnerships or resources that could be a good fit for you. These programs are run by the state and each operate differently. Some state programs are more robust, while others may focus on funding or legal and filing assistance.

Funding

State Loan and Grant Programs

Veteran-owned businesses are often underserved in terms of funding and grant opportunities. Small business grants and state-funded loan programs offer veteran entrepreneurs the opportunity to obtain the funding they need to start or maintain their businesses. Not to mention, there are many free resources developed to help veteran-owned small businesses thrive.

Your state may offer the following incentives to veteran-owned businesses:

- State funded loan programs
- Angel investor programs
- Incubation programs
- Grants
- Governor's funds
- SSBCI CAP and OCSP programs
- Corporate funding and grants

SSBCI CAP and OCSP Programs

The American Rescue Plan Act of 2021 (ARPA) reauthorized and amended the Small Business Jobs Act of 2010, codified at 12 U.S.C. § 5701 et seq., to provide $10 billion to fund the State Small Business Credit Initiative (SSBCI) as a response to the economic effects of the COVID-19 pandemic. SSBCI is a federal program administered by the Department of the Treasury (Treasury) that was created to strengthen capital programs that support private financing to small businesses, including capital access programs (CAPs) and other credit support programs (OCSPs), of eligible jurisdictions (i.e., states, the District of Columbia, territories, Tribal governments and eligible municipalities).

Certifications and Supplier Diversity

State Programs

Every year, governments award a portion of contracting dollars specifically to businesses owned by veterans, minorities, women or disabled small businesses. Also, small businesses owned by veterans may be eligible to purchase surplus property from the federal and state government. States and the federal government aim to award at least 3% of all federal contracting dollars to Service-Disabled Veteran-Owned Small Businesses (SDVOSB) each year; some programs extend to all veteran-owned business communities, check with your state to view qualifications. Most programs do require certification; before paying for an external company to certify, you leverage the state and VA's verification/certification program first. This process will typically enroll you into the states procurement database.

Your state may offer the following incentives to veteran-owned businesses

- Certification programs
- Preferred vendor status
- State procurement programs
